LENGTH OF PULL ADJUSTMENT OPTION
The optional Krieghoff Adjustable Butt Plate adds approximately 3/4" to the LOP and allows you to adjust Heel, Toe and Pitch. Pre-fitted 1/8” optional spacers can be used with the Adjustable Butt Plate or installed individually to lengthen the stock as well.

KX-6 SPECIAL GUN CASE
Each KX-6 Special comes in a lightweight, fitted foam case for maximized carrying comfort.

The Krieghoff KX-6 Special is a pure single-barrel competition Trap gun with the Singlex, Handicap and League shooter in mind. Featuring the familiar high post adjustable rib and corresponding high-profile follower stock borrowed from the K-80 Trap Special, the KX-6 Special offers the shooter a more upright head position, providing a wider field of vision and less perceived recoil.

The KX-6 Special streamlined receiver sports a durable nickel finish, very close to the KX-6 logo. The ergonomic design makes opening the gun for loading easier and also helps reduce recoil. The KX-6 Special comes with an adjustable rib that allows you to adjust your point of impact (POI) from a pattern of 60/40 up to a 110% high. The free-floating adjustable rib can be adjusted up or down at the muzzle by rotating the adjustment wheel nut located below the front bead.

The 34” single barrel expands lengthwise as it gets hot, so no matter how much you shoot, the point of impact remains where you set it and is not affected by heat expansion.

Available with a true right or left hand stock, the KX-6 Special can be fitted with optional Krieghoff Adjustable Butt Plate, Release Trigger, or Titanium Choke Tubes.

The KX-6 Special features a rib height that’s easy to adjust for quick target acquisition and is ventilated to reduce heat distortion. The adjustable trigger pull can easily adjust to fit your individual shooting style.

For quick target acquisition with reduced heat distortion, the KX-6 Special has a ventilated free-floating rib. The trigger pull is easily adjustable.

POINT OF IMPACT

The Point of Impact adjusts from 60/40 to approximately 110% high. The 70/30 factory set POI can be changed by turning the adjustment wheel clockwise to raise the POI, or counterclockwise to lower it.

STOCK

The KX-6 Special’s ergonomic stock is a product of extensive research on recoil forces combined with years of experience on the topic resulting in a comfortable fitting stock which minimizes perceived recoil. The recoil shield encourages proper head position for quick target pick up and is available in true right or left hand versions.

ACTION

The KX-6 Special action features a proven nickel finish for optimal durability and elegant appearance.
